"Why The Migrant Invasion of Europe?"

Truth Unveils Treason by European Leaders to Genocide White People

Pip Argot

Count Richard von Coudenhove-Kalergi, founder and President of the Pan-European Union, the original EU, said this in his 1925 book, 'Praktischer Idealismus:'

"The man of the future will be mixed-race... The Eurasian-Negroid race of the future... will replace the diversity of peoples... Russian Bolshevism constitutes a decisive step towards this purpose where a small group of Communist spiritual aristocrats govern the country... The general staff of both... are recruited from Europe's spiritual leader race, the Jews.

From the European quantity people... the mass, two quality races rise up: blood aristocracy and Jewry... both believe in their higher mission, of their better blood... The superiority of their spirit predestines them to become a main factor of the future nobility."

In 1950, Coundenhove-Kalergi was awarded the very first Charlemagne Prize. Subsequent winners have included Winston Churchill; Edward Heath; Bill Clinton; Henry Kissinger and Tony Blair. Of mixed-race himself, he was married three times. Two of his wives were Jewish.

Greetings to the readers who desire to know why Europe is under duress of invasion by the foreign peoples that seek to sack, ravish, pillage and plunder the cities, towns and villages.

To discover the truth of why and how, look up the name of the late elitist political organizer and Europhobic philosopher Count Richard Coudenhove-Kalergi. He authored the obscure manifesto book Practical Idealism (original title is "Praktischer Idealismus"), which details his desired plan to destroy Europe by engineered and induced dissolution of the European White race. This serves as the pathway to fulfill the Oded Yinon (Greater Israel) Plan. This man is the founding father of a precursor to the European Union, the International Pan-European Movement.

He is the namesake of the Coudenhove-Kalergi European prize awarded every two years, reserved for the elite group of leaders and influence peddlers instrumental in the support of and for the European Union as the unilateral and potentially extralegal supreme authority overseeing Europe with the member states that willingly extinguished their sovereignties for myriad reasons, including monetary, economic and political leadership.

German Chancellor Angela Merkel in Burka

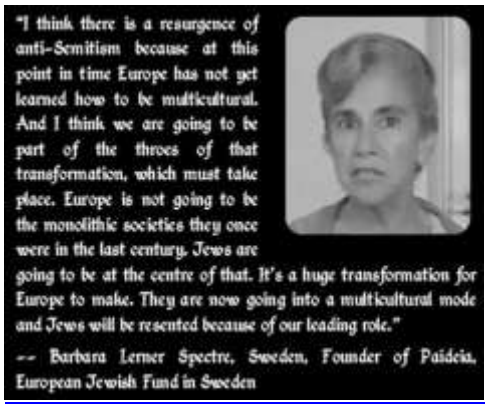
One of the recipients of the Coudenhove-Kalergi European prize is Angela Merkel (née Kapner). By the virtue of this award reception, Chancellor Merkel implicitly or explicitly endorses the secretive and obfuscated genocidal plan - as outlined in the anti-White Europa subversive's book Practical Idealism - to decimate the White peoples of Europe through mongrelization, displacement by force, violence and disenfranchisement, relegating them to serfdom.

This new serfdom will be overseen by the designated "lords" serving the powerful rulers as the democratic powers are usurped to form the tyranny by the minority rule, which must rely on the enormous mass of the inferior and hatefully vengeful subpar I.Q. colored peoples. They are often overtaken by the viral fever of religious fanaticism of Islam as the counter-Crusade after some failed conquests of Europe centuries ago (such as the humiliating defeat at the Battle of Vienna in 1683 that stymied Moslem invasion for centuries until now) - recollecting the warlike barbarians of the Mongrels and the Huns - as the battering ram of the White people to uproot their homes and livelihoods, confiscate the children for sanctioned rape and abuse by indoctrination towards self-hatred, rape and sexually exploit White women and children by forced intermixing and enslavement, and batter and murder White male for lark and resistance - even demolish the slight remnant of the ethnic-cultural pride.

Of course, Merkel is a traitor of the highest order to the Federal Republic of Germany, which disgraces Western Europe with the violent, demanding and unassimilable subhuman abomination enabled by Comrade Merkel. But Merkel is one of the innumerable treasonous politicians, financiers, economists, organizers, government officers and other moneyed circle of elites, and all of them are in deference - whether cowardly acquiescent or totally servile - to the real reason for the engineered ruination of Europe and eventually North America and the candid world. The true, veritable, and geopolitically and internationally extant reason is Jewish Supremacy.

The purpose of the permissible illegal migrant invasion of Europe is to genocide and democide the native European peoples and their phenotype (genetic code for various ethnicities that form light skin pigmentation, blue eyes, blonde hair, attractive features, etc) with enforced miscegenation by rape and pressure, sanctioned massacre and violence and modes of oppression to control the indigenous white peoples by the rule of terror and totalitarianism to eventually abolish the entire White European race (or at least Western portion).

This is in accordance with Babylonian Talmud Zionist Jew and Illuminati plan, fomented by the trillionaire (with a T) central banking cartel, overseen by the all-seeing top of the pyramid - the banker, financier and global affairs political mover the Rothschild dynasty.



"I think there is a resurgence of anti-Semitism because at this point in time Europe has not yet learned how to be multicultural. And I think we are going to be part of the throes of that transformation, which must take place. Europe is not going to be the monolithic societies they once were in the last century. Jews are going to be at the centre of that. It's a huge transformation for Europe to make. They are now going into a multicultural mode and Jews will be resented because of our leading role."

-- Barbara Lerner Spectre, Sweden, Founder of Paideia, European Jewish Fund in Sweden

This dynasty's secret control of the developing and civilized world is buttressed by the network of the various powerful and wealthy persons and groups, such as the United Nations (originated as Comintern [Communist Internationalism] to absorb and replace the League of Nations), George Soro's Open Society Foundations, The Bilderberg Group, Council on Foreign Relations, Trilateral Commission (David Rockefeller), Club of Rome, The Committee of 300, Institute for Jewish Policy Research, Washington Institute for Near East Policy, Chatham House (Royal Institute for International Affairs), Jewish Institute for National Security Affairs, the now-defunct Jerusalem-based Institute for Advanced Strategic and Political Studies (author of the 1996 Israeli foreign policy manifesto "A Clean Break: A New Strategy for Securing the Realm" that preceded 9-11 with invasions that led to displacement and massive outmigration as the direct result of U.S.-Israel foreign policy), and now-defunct Project for the New American Century (one of the main instigators of the September 11 inside job coordinated and executed by the Mossad with the enabling traitors within the shadow government; the organization is now re-established as "Foreign Policy Initiative" with the same criminal cabal members that only serve Israel and Jewish interests in disguise). They all seek to fulfill the agenda of the Coudenhove-Kalergi Plan by enforcing the deliberate and violent genocide of White Europa, which facilitates the creation of Greater Israel (Oded Yinon Plan), with all Jews of the world called to migrate to the expanded Jewish homeland following the persecution by angry host populaces of the collapsing once-wealthy and once-stable nations now overwhelmed by the undesirable non-White races.

This is why the Judean tribe, with a significant percentage possibly of Ashkenazi Khazar descent and not really Israelite by blood, is called the nation-wrecker. They are carrying out the agenda to destroy the diversity of the world in order to mongrelize the races to rule over from Greater Israel, their seat of unilateral totalitarian hegemony, with the abolishment of the White race as one of the major goals.

The Jews continue to practice activities such as subversion and treason, usury and fraud, ritual murder, blasphemy, sexual immoralities and treachery to honor their "God", who many would identify as being "Satanic." Jews, along with their shabbot goy and sayanim traitors, serve as designated agents to carry out the plan of Hell on Earth, featuring wholesale genocides and destruction.

The Greater Israel Project - also known as the "Oden Yinon Plan"
When viewed in the current context
the war on Iraq, the 2006 war on Lebanon, the 2011 war on Libya, the ongoing war on Syria,not to mention the process of regime change in Egypt, must be understood in relation to the Zionist Plan for the Middle East.
"Greater Israel" consists in an area extending from the Nile Valley to the Euphrates.

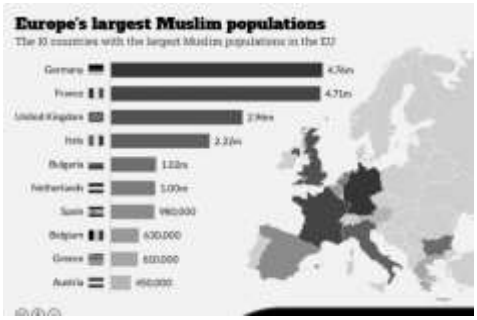
At the center of the plan is the conquest of Europe, which also serves to give birth to the expansion of Greater Israel's boundaries. It has been in progress since Germany was "destroyed" with the death of Hitler and violence against the Germans (see the book and the documentary film "Hellstorm" - available online) to follow with the artificial creation of the State of Israel in 1948.

Jews tried to accelerate the goals of the Oded Yinon plan with the attacks in the incident called Lavon Affair, 60's border wars and USS Liberty attack, etc. Their plans have not been entirely successful. 9-11 served as the catalyst for this plan as the second stage - the first stage was establishing Israel state as the exclusively ethnocentric Jewish nation - of their mission.

The New World Order is the final stage of the mission, shared by the traitors that work for the Jew, to enact global Communism. Communism springs from Judaism through Marxism and similar ideological precedents such as the French Revolution (Communist-egalitarian Jacobin faction that celebrated the slaughter of the French White colonial people by the revolting Negro slave in St.-Domingo, now known as Haiti).

Europe, America and majority White nations, now transitioning to the minority status by deliberate design with regressive laws drafted and advocated by Jews, will either fight back or perish.

Obviously, Jews and their useful idiots (i.e. communists, misandric feminists and anti-fascist/anarchist agitator factions) want white countries to flounder and collapse as some sort of atavistic hatred and revenge in envisaging the divide-and-conquer strategy to balkanize the communities, regions, states and nations for exploitation and control by political empowerment of Europhobic and anti-nationalist/patriotic antagonists.



The fate is left up to the White peoples, who may already be brainwashed to subservience status by Cultural Marxism, which is another insidious force developed by the elite group of intellectual German Jew subversives (Frankfurt School and then Columbia University), weakening the secretly despised populace of White bloodline, whose progeny and posterity are subjugated to relentless and vicious ethnomasochistic propaganda, with conflict, disharmony, irreligiosity, apathy, degeneracy, guilt and complacency leading to race suicide.

The express and explicit purpose of Cultural Marxist agenda, designed and implemented through social engineering (called predictive programming), is to corrode the spiritual, just, moral, unified and homogeneous racial and ethnic cohesion towards the partial or complete collapse of the Western Civilization to benefit the conspiring hegemonic rulers served by the equally depraved traitors. They mandate that White race (self-) destruction be achieved through the outcome of the induced advent of enforced political correctness, rigid censorship of truth and free thought, oppositional feminism, crass materialism, irrational egalitarianism, debased and nihilistic libertinism and forced integration of non-white Third World immigration.

This mandate of modified behaviors through self-loathing and propaganda culminate in the fractured same-race relations amid social, political, spiritual and economic discordance that inevitably lead to the below-level population replacement through the collapsing birthrate of the untainted race towards the program of wholesale race annihilation masterminded by Jewish Supremacists and their like-minded traitorous allies.

The conspirators have a selfish and evil agreement to meddle in European, American and global affairs through the treasonous think tanks and covertly controlled (shadow) governments, hiding behind the facade of republicanism and democracy to inflict the sadistic pain of oppression and violence on the confounded and deceived white populace. They impose retrogressive, nefarious and obscene policies as the irrevocable law designed to demoralize, divide, degrade, disfranchise, disempower and destroy the targeted race, caring for nothing but the consolidation of power, wealth, prestige and self-preservation at the expense of the dying and balkanized nations of White Europeans.

The final solution for the awakened White peoples of the stricken host nations is to expel almost ALL Jews from Europe as the first step to stopping the insane plan of Coudenhove-Kalergi, complimenting the Oded Yinon plan towards the globalists' plan to establish New World Order, which serves no one but the obscenely wealthier and power-mad oligarchy with their evil 'God' as the principal guide.

A Chaos Invited: the Migrant Crisis

"Hell is paved with good intentions."
Samuel Johnson

While many Europeans remain willing to help migrants out of a sense of humanitarian virtue, more sober minds should be asking themselves "What will come of all this? What will the results be of millions of non-Christian men, women, and children, old and young – primarily males – flooding into Western Europe?"

The assumption by the well-intentioned is that migrants will adapt to European behaviors, assume Western secular values, adopt Western political culture, and live in peace and mutual respect with local populations. Is this possible? It may be, but the odds are against it. More than likely, Europe will experience historical, catastrophic convulsions along ideological lines with values clashing literally in the streets. There will be violence, and lots of it.

The assumptions of the well-meaning is that "We are all the same." Well, biologically this may be so, but culturally it is not. To ignore the role of culture in adaptation to societies operating on different values and expectations is foolish. The more similar the cultural background, the easier it is to transition from your homeland to a new country, but in the case of Muslim migration we are dealing with value systems diametrically opposed to the secular and the Judeo-Christian.

For someone from the West to move, for instance, to Japan or China, or the Middle East, with the expectation of smooth integration, being able to function like a local, being accepted into society, is a grand illusion. You can move to Japan or China but you will never be Japanese or Chinese, or Arab, even if you speak the language. On the contrary, you will always be considered an "outsider." This is true of foreigners in European societies as well, so to pretend otherwise is to stick your head in the sand – which is exactly what many people are doing. Cultural values conflict more often than they blend where cultural conservatism is the norm. This is nowhere more profound than the conflict in traditional values of Islamic versus Christian or secular cultures. Like oil and water, they have never mixed, and will not mix in the future.

These complexes of values, the backbones of cultures, have been at war for well over a thousand years, and now they are being poured into one cauldron as though history did not matter. Well, it does matter, and we have already seen the explosive results in France, Holland, Denmark, Germany, Italy, Spain, Australia… - nowhere has "integration" of Muslims been successful, not even in America where you would expect transitions to be easier than elsewhere.

Rather, the results of Islamic mass-migration have been the formation of "parallel societies," ghettos, no-go areas, localized fiefdoms run by all-male gangs as in Sweden and France. In exceptional cases, there have been successes in integration, but these cases involved secularized Muslims who were willing and able to compromise their values, for we cannot have our cake and eat it too, which is what too many migrants have wanted so far.

What are the likely consequences of waves of Muslim immigration to Europe? Already you find Eastern European cultures who, having recently ridden themselves of Communist domination, and are transitioning to capitalism under their own national banners, are now being told by the EU to accept migrants who will add to the existing chaos. Countries like Hungary, which was subjected to humiliation under Muslim (Turkish) dominance, are being told to take in thousands of Muslims who most likely will never leave, never integrate, never adopt Hungarian behaviors and secular values. What such countries have to look forward to are years of cultural conflict, massive increases in national debt, raised taxes, increased costs of living, competition with refugees for jobs and homes, and violence rampaging in their cities. Hungarians have already had the problems associated with integrating gypsies into society (unsuccessfully so) and now are to be burdened with migrants expecting to be taken care of. Well, expect trouble. Lots of it.

Another consequence of mass-migration into Europe will be the resentment citizens already feel towards Germany, the land that most "welcomes" migrants, indiscriminately, and without prior international consultation. Certainly, the situation has been critical and decisions had to be made on the spot. However, Chancellor Angela Merkel's unilateral declaration of "welcome" to millions of migrants has only created fear and chaos in the EU. Germany plans to take up to a million migrants but wants the expense shared among member states that are experiencing their own economic setbacks. This adds to the anger.

There is no control of who has been allowed into the Schengen border-free zone, hence it will be difficult to determine countries of origin for the purpose of forced repatriation of those who have "lost" or destroyed their identity papers and passports. Lacking proper screening, we can expect criminals, political activists, terrorists, and worse. As the majority of migrants are male, we can also expect anger and frustration which we have seen in the burning automobiles in Strasbourg and other European cities. Once the crimes begin, expect increased resentment towards Germany, the country that opened the floodgates to begin with.

And where is the money needed to house, feed, clothe, provide with medical care, educate, and train millions of migrants? Ms. Merkel claims there is no need to raise taxes. But taxes went up when the Wall came down, and millions of East Germans had to be incorporated into West Germany. That process is still ongoing. Many East Germans have been on welfare for years, some for decades, being unable to find work, or too old to adapt to the capitalist system. Now we add hundreds of thousands who will be in competition for tax dollars, in competition with Germans who already regret the demise of socialist East Germany and its more secure way of life. There will be political consequences.

Germany and other Euro countries already have new, right-wing, nationalistic movements afoot. Parties like The Finns party, the Danish People's Party, Sweden Democrats, the Front National in France, the Progress party in Norway, the Lega Nord in Italy, Freedom Party in Austria, the Swiss People's Party, British National Party, the Freedom Party in Holland, Golden Dawn in Greece, and National Democratic Party in Germany have emerged out of popular resentment against governments that have been deaf to segments of their populations. Too many nation-loving people in Europe feel disenfranchised from the "democratic" process by know-it-all leaders who make decisions without consultation with their constituents. People who feel humiliated, ignored, or tarnished with labels like "Islamophobe," "racist," "Nazi," etc., are taking to the streets in support of nationalist ideals. Expect greater divisions in the social fabric of European societies and many more demonstrations. And, in response, expect more police, more security surveillance, distrust of governments, and open conflict.

Most immediately, there will be a housing crisis. Where are over a million and more migrants to be housed this year and in years to come? We are looking at waves of millions, not thousands, of bodies that need shelter, schools, and clinics. Today there are emergency shelters in gymnasiums, military barracks, schools, halls of all kinds, tent cities, and apartments where they can be found. This puts a strain on Europeans looking for accommodation, not to mention the migrants themselves who expect better than emergency shelters now that the winter is coming. Expect angry protests in refugee camps and shelters, and an increase in popular resentment in all of Europe.

Apartment blocks are being planned. However, going on past experience, these new suburbs will turn into high-rise slums within decades of construction, warehousing disenchanted men and women feeling cheated of their dreamed of, prosperous future in countries where their presence is resented. This has been the case of Turks in Germany and Switzerland, and it will be even worse with Arabs who seem to expect even more than their predecessors.

Saudi Arabia has stepped forward to offer to construct two hundred new mosques in Germany – a dream for the Saudi Wahhabi who have been busy spreading their virulent form of militant Islam with the proceeds of oil wealth. Europe already has thousands of mosques that serve as centers of ideas hostile to Western democracy and Christianity. Well, now we have a new threat and, quite naively, we are opening the doors to a complex ideology that has twice launched wars of aggression in Europe.

No wonder radical Islamists are euphoric. Their god has blinded European leaders and do-gooders to the reality of their intentions. The door to Vienna has been opened, and the masses are flooding in. Expect more demands for Islamic schools, demands for Shari'a law courts, demands for exemptions from secular laws. And when such demands are not met, expect terror, because terror has been the most effective way of spreading Islam. ISIS knows this, as does everyone who has read the Qur'an.

There is the myth, hopeful as it is, of sending people who "are not true refugees" back to their countries of origin. But how will this be possible given that many migrants have no papers? Or they come from countries where they will be punished if they return? And, even when police attempt to deport illegals by force, the press will be there to film migrants kicking and screaming as they are hauled aboard planes. This happened when France attempted to eject migrant gypsies and others. The liberal press is the migrant's best friend, be the migrant illegal or qualified for refugee status. Add to the cost of repatriation the costs involved in first housing migrants pending a judicial hearing that often takes three or more years to take place. The fact is that most migrants will remain. They will not want to "go home," and wont be able to make an independent, prosperous life for themselves in Europe either. Whether their offspring do any better is another question. Given the experience of Turks in Germany, Sweden, and Switzerland, the prospects of additional migrants are no cause for optimism.

There is some talk of training Arabs to fight for democracy back in their homelands, especially in Syria. The idea is to offer military training to patriotic young men who will return to the Middle East to fight against ISIS, and then, presumably remain there to rebuild the country. An additional hope is that once peace is established, many migrants will return to their countries of origin, voluntarily. But, how many Turks who came to Europe as "guest workers" returned to Anatolia, back to their peaceful villages among the green hills dotted with sheep? Why go back when you can live on welfare, old age pensions, receive children's allowances and other benefits in Europe?

Some 70% of Turkish children living in Germany have not finished high school. Some 80% of Muslims in Germany are on welfare, and statistics for those in the UK and other countries of Europe don't look any better. Turks have a birth rate 5%, far greater than that of Germans, and will form the majority in the country by 2050. The resulting social decline is something to look forward to.

There are many people in Europe, especially in Germany, who wish to atone for the sins of their ancestors who were involved in wars of aggression against neighbors. These people want a world without borders, a European identity based on humanism and altruism which will supplant a self-image that they loathe. This is all fine and good. However, opening their arms to millions of migrants irrespective of their adaptability, or genuine necessity to seek refuge, will cause more harm than good. The trouble begins with religions and ethnicities that don't get along in their homelands carrying their hostilities to Europe. We have seen this in the attacks of Arabs against French Jews. Then comes an inability to comprehend or tolerate the ways of post-modern society that migrants can only interpret as "decadent" and "immoral," incompatible with their conservative values and codes of behavior. This creates not only hostile attitudes, but motives for creating "parallel societies" sealed off in ethnic and religious ghettos. Again, there are numerous European and other examples to illustrate this point. So what we end up with is a form of apartheid which the West sought to eliminate but will soon be saddled with – ironically, all out of the best of intentions.

PART II

"I tell you, they will come again."

Charles Martel, at the defeat of Muslim troops attempting the conquest of France, 723 AD.

The situation regarding Islam and the West today is more complicated than ever before. On the one hand, our humanistic impulse is to extend shelter to Muslims fleeing war and persecution even as radical Islam is attacking the capitals of Europe. We have our hospitable, sympathetic impulses in conflict with our anxieties over massive immigration, the desire to be helpful versus the instinct for self-preservation. Those most in favor of opening the doors to what will amount to millions of migrants (or "refugees") believe that once in our countries, Muslims will moderate, will accommodate themselves to multicultural, diversely religious, and democratic values, embrace our humanistic attitudes that include a belief in reason, human rights, tolerance of gender and sexual differences, etc, etc, etc. And, conversely, we will learn about Islam's spiritual side, extend our understanding and tolerance, and we will all get along splendidly.

Conversely, those favoring limited access to our largess, or even exclusion of Islamic migration into Western countries, point out that we cannot control the attitudes and values of those being allowed in, cannot predict how Islam will develop within our borders, and therefore cannot guarantee the safety of our citizens now or in the future. We don't see the benefit of allowing a rival ideology into our midst.

In the background of the debate, we have muftis and imams assuring us of the peacefulness of Islam, the desire to share our countries amiably, and the compatibility of their religion with democratic values. Many people want to believe this as it would allow us to remain charitable while remaining in control of our way of life, our future, and feel good about our decisions. But no one really addresses the social and cultural consequences of what can only be an Islamization of western countries, step by step, generation after generation.

Islam did not spread across a quarter of the world by accommodating itself to local cultures. It took over by force, buried existing institutions like the pyramids were entombed under the sands, wiped out local languages and belief systems, transformed everything into its own image. There used to be a Persia, culturally rich in its own right. Now it's the (Shiite) Islamic state of Iran. North African states were once tribal entities; now they are an extension of Saudi Arabia and the Gulf fiefdoms, dominated by Islam, wracked by civil war. The Middle East was once Christian and Jewish, along with smaller belief systems, now it's predominantly Muslim and violently sectarian. Malaysia and Indonesia had rich cultures of their own, now drowned out by prayer calls five times a day. How any of these territories benefited from being colonized by an ideology stemming from the deserts of Arabia is debatable. Today, civilizations threatened with Islamization include Europe, China, India, Russia, and generally what we call the secular West. So, how do we decide the migration question?

I do not believe in the rhetoric stemming from either apologists for Islam or from the muftis and imams trying to placate our anxieties. The intention inherent in Islam as an ideology, self-professed, is global expansion. This is the purpose at its core. Not cohabitation, not peace-and-love-for- all in some hippydom of hearts and minds as the naive would like us to believe. Islam has a life of its own no matter what individual Muslims and other well-meaning people intend. If it's peaceful today, it can become violent tomorrow. Having said all that, we are still left undecided how far to extend our helping hand to refugees who may never return to their homes in the Middle East. Our hearts continue to contest our heads while the world burns. That their presence in our countries will have an effect is certain but just how much of this will be acceptable remains to be seen.

The Transformation of Europe into a Eurafrican and Eurabian Mongrel Network

Clare Ellis (2015)

It is no accident that hundreds of thousands of non-Whites in 'crisis' have been flooding the shores, the islands, the towns, and the cities of Europe, North America and Australia / New Zealand over the past few years, with millions more expected to arrive in the not too distant future. This massive and continual influx of 'wretched' peoples into Europe is not merely part of a 'global migration trend' or a 'global refugee crisis'. These peoples are not forcing their way into Europe and European-founded nations in waves the size of towns and small cities simply as a response to civil strife, persecution, or war in their home countries, or because of the mayhem and violence ISIS is spreading across North and North East Africa and the Middle East. Neither is it merely about the ramifications of botched Western military interventions in African countries and the Islamic world, or about 'pay-back' for the so-called ruination of Third World 'progress' due to past (and present) Western imperial aspirations and (neo)colonial endeavours. Nor is this transference of populations solely about the seeking of a better way of life or the economic capital possible on the European streets of gold.

If Europe had strong borders defended by armed guards, had strict entry procedures that rigorously screened would-be entrants, didn't advertise itself as the savior of all humanity, didn't have a program for the complete diversification of Europe into a global village, and didn't offer generous hand-outs and other aid to foreign nationals, then would there even be such a thing as the 'refugee crisis'?

Despite what the mainstream and even the unconventional media are saying, the major figureheads and leaders of the European Union have not closed their external borders in response to the 'refugee crisis' because they are stultified by the sheer volume of the migrant flood or because they lack a spine for tough decision-making or because they are paralyzed by the moral blackmailing of human rights groups; rather, they are welcoming, indeed even encouraging, the tidal wave of migrating Third World masses . The consequential diversification of Europe from the 'tsunamigration' plays right into the palms of their anti-European terraforming hands.

The Mongrelization of Europe is a Scientific Experiment to End "White Racism."

Since at least the 1920s there have been major anti-Euro-ethnic identity movements and ideologues working diligently day and night designing and implementing their plans to alter and erase the borders and deconstruct the ethno-cultural identities of Europe. In the first half of the 20th century there were people like the highly influential Richard Coudenhove-Kalergi and his Pan-European Movement and notion of Eurafrica, as well as anti-nationalist and cultural Marxist campaigners; after the post-WWII era there were abstract cosmopolitanists, 'anti-racist' New Leftists, and Eurabian and Eurafrican advocates; and today, including the aforementioned, we have melting pot neoconservatives and 'anti-fascists', such as Roger Griffin, an illustrious and well-paid British expert, who stated in his 2008 book, A Fascist Century:

> "Whatever the structural reasons for Britain's White racism and the counter-racism it breeds in its victims, such intolerance will not be rooted out until most Britons (of whatever background) not only tolerate the steady mongrelization of British society, but celebrate it as the laboratory of exciting new forms of culture and human coexistence."

The verb mongrelize means to "cause to become mixed in race, composition, or character" and thus to become "of no identifiable type." Mongrel is also synonymous with 'mutt', which is a shortened version of muttonhead, which means "A stupid person." A laboratory is a room "equipped for carrying out scientific experiments or procedures, especially for the purposes of research, teaching, or analysis" and can be understood in terms of society as "a site or centre of development, production, or experimentation." A further definition includes "'designating an animal used for tests or experiments in a laboratory', as laboratory animal, laboratory mouse, laboratory rat, etc." and is instrumental, such that the animal is "Laboratory-bred" or "Laboratory-grown."

In terms of the British people, a mongrelized Briton in the social-engineered laboratory setting of a cultural Marxist multiracial society is a deracinated, racially unidentifiable individual, who, like a rat in a lab, is being genetically bred and altered to be thoughtless and easily manipulated. And Griffin wants them, just like a lab animal, to be mute so they cannot say "Stop this madness! you're killing me and my people!" And this is applicable for all European peoples, for all European-founded countries are undergoing radical change from mass-immigration from the Third World and its accompanying ideology, immigrant multiculturalism.

A scientifically imposed mongrelization of a people is in fact a form of scientific racism and genocide. But major European elites, such as Peter Sutherland, don't think so. This Irish international businessman and billionaire, who is a founding father of the World Trade Organization and was chairman of Goldman Sachs between 1995 and June 2015, considers that demographics and migration are key to the necessary transformation of ethnically homogeneous European societies into "open" multicultural (aka multiracial) states comprised of a teeming mass of peoples from the whole world. The reason that massive non-White immigration into Europe is imperative for Sutherland is that it is a humanitarian project to combat White 'racism' and ease the pain and evil of European national sovereignty, which he equates with Nazism.

Replacement Migration and Our Money-Grubbing Traitorous Elites

But wait! There is another completely unconnected major rationalization the elites spin over the masses regarding sustained massive non-European immigration into Europe: they claim it will off-set age-related and low fertility rate population decline. For example, the United Nations offered a report in March 2000 that considered that the replacement of Europeans by non-European immigrants was a viable solution to their population 'problems': Focusing on these two striking and critical population trends [ageism and low fertility], the report considers replacement migration for eight low-fertility countries (France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Republic of Korea, Russian Federation, United Kingdom and United States) and two regions (Europe and the European Union). Replacement migration refers to the international migration that a country would need to offset population decline and population ageing resulting from low fertility and mortality rates.

Yes, never mind implementing programmes to incentivise Europeans to have larger families; just forget about the education and media channels sopping with feminist vitriol and the cultural Marxist deconstruction of traditional morality that have destroyed the most important core element of all human societies, marriage and the family (the family, which the UDHR is supposed to hold sacred for the wellbeing and continuance of all peoples); and just step over the definition of genocide when it comes to Europeans, which states that genocide involves actions that are "committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group" and include: "Deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part." Instead, let's just replace the Europeans with other peoples who will be a great source of cheap labour! The entire frame of reference of this thinking is simply about money.

Nevertheless, the 'refugee' crisis is feeding all ideological variations of the anti-European theme: the cultural Marxists, the socialists, the anti-fascists, the anti-nationalists, the cosmopolitanists, and the neo-conservatives. All want a brand New World Order that necessarily involves the mixing of European demographics, the altering of their genetics, and the complete terraforming of their cultures into unrecognizable forms, at which point, what has made European peoples Europeans over the course of their deep-rooted ancestries (i.e. their distinct ethno-cultural traits) have become buried or obliterated under the insidious universalism of those abstract memes and catchphrases: 'Equality,' 'Humanity,' 'Unity in Diversity,' 'Open Borders,' 'Progress', 'Prosperity for Allm' and 'Perpetual Peace.'

Refugees or Illegal Migrants?

The BBC reports that the International Organization for Migration estimated that "At least 350,000 migrants crossed the EU's borders in January-August 2015, compared with just 280,000 during the whole of 2014" and this figure does not include all those who arrived "undetected." However, according to the European Agency for the Management of Operational Cooperation at the External Borders of the Member States of the European Union (Frontex), a registered count puts the migrant figure up to "More than 500 000...in the first eight months of this year after a fifth consecutive monthly record was registered in August when 156 000 crossed the EU borders," and again, this does not include all of those not detected. And 2015 wasn't over yet!

While the controlled media channels consistently push the narrative that the current flow of crisis migrants into Europe are 'refugees' fleeing war and persecution or moralize that a minor portion of them are poor 'migrants' seeking a better life and deserve to be coddled by Europe due to racism!, colonialism!, equality!, payback!, the facts tell a different story. Although a significant amount of these crisis migrants are indeed genuine refugees fleeing ISIS and Western-led military interventions in North Africa and the Middle East, and a large amount are Syrians, the substantial majority of these peoples are actually illegal economic migrants, specifically young males, who are demanding that Europeans help them financially improve their lives.

The prime minister of Hungary, Viktor Orbán, has said that the "overwhelming majority" of these migrants flooding Europe are not refugees but are economic migrants, and the prime minister of Slovakia, Robert Fico, has said that only 5% are actual refugees. Ian Drury, writing for the Daily Mail, reports that "The EU logged 213,000 arrivals in April, May and June but only 44,000 of them were fleeing the Syrian civil war." Only a rough fifth of the incoming were therefore genuine refugees, which, according to David Davies, a Tory MP for Monmouth, "exposes the lie peddled in some quarters that vast numbers of those reaching Europe are from Syria." The vast majority of Syrian and other refugees are actually in or heading to neighbouring countries, particularly Turkey, Lebanon, and Jordan. In any case, if "the number of forcibly displaced people in the world at the end of last year was 59.5m" and, as it stands at the moment, 86% of these are in developing countries, are European countries in the years to come, going to be forced to accept the majority of these peoples as well?

Europe is under no legal or ethical obligation to take in illegal economic migrants who are merely seeking to improve their lot at European expense.

Europe is under no obligation to take in, look after, and integrate illegal economic migrants who are merely seeking to improve their lot at European expense. The 1951 Refugee Convention and other EU laws, state that Europe must offer refuge or other types of protection to asylum-seekers who are legitimately fleeing war or persecution but there are no laws that require Europe to absorb and ameliorate those who come wildly thrashing at and breaking through the doors of Europe claiming they are the poor of the world. In any case, many of these illegals are openly hostile to Europeans. Many of them are the perpetrators of violence, aggression, rape, destruction, manipulation, deception, hostility, and so on to the host authorities and ordinary natives alike, while the mainstream media have a complete black-out policy when it comes to these facts.

These illegal economic migrants, when they arrive in their chosen European destination, plan not to integrate or contribute to the economic prosperity and preservation of Europe as Europe. Rather, they aim to live in ethnically distinct neighbourhoods already carved out by their friends and family members, demand various accommodations based on their ethnicity, make money, on the black market if necessary and certainly within ethnic employment networks, and then send remittances to their families who live outside of Europe. When they arrive they claim they have 'nothing' (including an education) and so receive free food and board, a free cell phone, free travel passes, free language classes, a daily allowance, and vocational training, all at the cost of the taxpayers. Over time, they will most likely seek to bring other family members, particularly wives and children, and possibly parents and siblings over to their new 'home' via family reunification procedures.

Human Smugglers, Boats4People, and Welcome to Europe Network

The majority of the 'crisis' migrants are funneling through Libya and arriving in Europe via sea, i.e. the Mediterranean and the Aegean, landing on various islands and the shorelines of Italy and Greece, often continuing on into the heart of Europe, particularly to Germany and Britain. Increasingly, due to the dangers of illegal sea travel in leaky rubber dinghies, migrants are opting to travel via land, i.e. through Turkey, particularly via its Edirne province and crossing into Bulgaria and Greece and onwards into Europe. Neither the North African countries on the southern shores of the Mediterranean nor Turkey, let alone Europe, are effectively stymieing the tide of migrants; they are not offering any preventive tactics or significantly beefing up their border and shore patrols.

See larger reproduction of this map on the last page

How can it be that hundreds of thousands of peoples traveling across the Mediterranean and Aegean Seas from North Africa and Turkey as well as over land have paid smugglers for a place on a pathetic sea-unworthy vessel or in an airless lorry, yet only a small handful of these human traffickers have ever been caught? Maybe an answer lies in such free movement of people projects as Boats4People, an organization that was set up in 1989 to "end deaths at maritime borders and to defend migrants' rights at sea" involving a coalition of fourteen organizations including: FIDH (International Federation for Human Rights), Migreurop Euro-African Network (Migreurop is a Moving Beyond Borders project of EPIM, the European Programme for Integration and Migration), Africa-Europe-

Interact Network, and Welcome to Europe Network.

The anti-European anti-border W2EU (Welcome to Europe) website states:

We welcome all travelers on their difficult trip and wish you all a good journey - because freedom of movement is everybody's right!

They also have a transborder "map of resistance against the European borderregime [sic]", which is the product of a March 2012 conference in Istanbul, Turkey, that involved sixty participants from "Copenhagen to Bamako and from Tangier to Uzhgorod" discussing "the experiences gained in their projects and campaigns at the external borders of the EU." W2EU has also distributed handbooks to would-be sea migrants that aid them in their travels and entry into Europe, including where they may get detained and screened, and, it has been suggested, it is funded by ✡ George Soros, that billionaire Open Society Foundation founder and grand master socialist who is notorious for his virulent hatred of any notion of European identity and ethnic autonomy.

The Union for the Mediterranean

Since the 1970s, even as far back as the 1920s, as I have written about elsewhere, European elites began serious designs (Eurabia and Eurafrica) for what would eventually become known as the Union for the Mediterranean. Eurafrica and Eurabia are concepts that basically mean that Africa and the Arab world are to be (or are in the process of becoming) merged or aligned with Europe in various ways, particularly through immigration into Europe, a one-direction migration, and, equally importantly, through changes to the cultural, political, economic, and societal realms of existence in all countries involved, especially European nations. Both Eurafrica and Eurabia are encapsulated by the Union for the Mediterranean (UfM). This Union was established in 2008 and aims to increase "the potential for regional integration and cohesion among Euro-Mediterranean countries" and "is inspired by the shared political will to revitalize efforts to transform the Mediterranean into an area of peace, democracy, cooperation and prosperity." The real objective is "economic and political convergence towards Europe."

Much like Boats4People, UfM considers that the "Mediterranean is a sea that brings people together. It is a highway for commerce and exchanges. Easy and safe access to flows of goods and people over land and sea, is essential for improving relations, enhancing regional trade and consequently, for the prosperity and development of the region." In August 2015, UfM promoted 5 billion Euros in 27 urban investment projects in 9 southern and eastern Mediterranean countries and the European Investment Bank claimed that 60 million Euros would need to be invested for developments in the region in the near future.

There are also action plans and financial resources associated with European initiatives regarding migration from Africa as well as individual agencies and organizations that are attempting to 'help' Africa and the Muslim world 'develop.' One example is Tony Blair's AGI (African Governance Initiative) that apparently works "shoulder-to-shoulder with government colleagues in African Presidencies and Ministries to help them turn their visions for development into reality." Another example is Official Development Assistance (ODA); 50% of funds from Sweden, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands (the latter spent 495 million Euros in 2014 to help refugees), and 35% of German funds, go to Africa.

European Funding for Migrants and Refugees

Further European funds are channeled into the migrant/refugee crisis. In April 2014, the European Union adopted the Asylum, Migration and Integration Fund, which represented "a commitment of over EUR 3 billion for the next seven years (2014-2020)" and a majority of this fund is designated to "improve asylum systems, reception modalities, and integration policies." In April 2015 the EU "tripled its funding" to deal with the migrant crisis and in August the European Commission "approved 2.4 billion euros ($2.6 billion) of aid over six years for countries including Greece and Italy that have struggled to cope with a surge in numbers of immigrants." The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNCHR) budget for Sweden, Italy, Hungary, and Belgium is USD 68.1 million but just this month, September 2015, the EU emergency summit on the migrant crisis decided to contribute "at least 1 billion euros ($1.1 billion) in fresh EU funding" to UNCHR and other agencies, including the World Food Program and also provide Lebanon, Jordan, and Turkey with "greater injections of EU assistance, including through a "substantial increase" in the EU's Regional Trust Fund." The European Commission has also "proposed to establish an emergency fund, starting with 1.8 billion euros ($2.1 billion), to address the crises in North and North East Africa".

Although so much financial aid is pouring into African and Muslim countries from Europe for development and for dealing with the migrant/refugee crisis, it has done little, if anything, to improve the situation. Turkey will not give its Syrian refugees work permits or nationalities, but Numan Kurtulmus, the Turkish deputy prime minister, can imply that Europeans should. Again, not distinguishing between refugees and illegal migrants, he stated that "If European nations committed to accepting any number of refugees currently trying to go west from Turkey... Ankara would provide planes to fly them to their new host country" although he also "welcomed a European Union initiative that may allocate up to 1 billion euros ($1.14 billion) to help Ankara with its humanitarian efforts." And Libya has threatened military action if Europe uses its military in an attempt to stop the colonization.

Migrant Population Numbers and the Destruction of European Ethnicities

Costs to European governments in dealing with the crisis migrant influx include the provision of "healthcare, education, housing and other social benefits." This is not a temporary situation. The narrative of the controlled media is that "In the longer-term, migrants could be absorbed into the labor force and eventually boost consumer demand, driving economic growth." But it is clear that this migrant crisis, along with massive immigration, is and will continue to have long-term deteriorating effects on public services, such as education, health, and infrastructure, as well as housing and the environment. Social tensions between ethnic groups are also already bubbling and the economy is suffering. In the EU-28 Eurostat estimated for July 2015 that 23+ million men and women were unemployed, or roughly 4.5 % of the working age of the 508 million population. The unemployment rate in Greece and Italy, both of which receive the initial brunt of 'crisis' migrants, in March 2015 was 25.6% (about 1.2 million) and 12.4% (about 3.1 million) respectively. In Germany, France, and the United Kingdom, the unemployment rates are 6.5%, 10.5%, and 5.4% respectively. In just these latter three countries alone there are about 7.5 million people unemployed.

The United Kingdom with a population of 64 million and a landmass of 243,610 $km^2$ had a net migration rate of a whopping 318,000 in 2014. Since the turn of the century, UK net migration has been oscillating between 150,000 to over 300,000 persons a year and the bulk of immigrants are not seasonal or temporary workers, but are there to stay and settle. New immigrants can receive public services such as healthcare and education, and after five years of residence non-EU immigrants can receive benefits, such as jobseekers' allowance, disability allowance, tax credits, and housing benefits. The situation is similar for Germany, France, Austria, and other Western European countries. For example, Germany, with a population of 80.62 million and a landmass of 357,168 $km^2$, had a net migration rate of 549,998 in 2012. If this number is roughly the same for 2015 and Germany is expected to receive around 800,000 or more asylum seekers by the end of 2015, then this means that Germany would have a net migration of about 1.3 million or more, which is historically unprecedented.

> Nowhere do we find a mainstream discussion on the costs to the natives, to the cultures, ways of life, towns, villages, cities, and traditions of Europeans from this 'crisis migrant' influx, other than the condemnation of anyone who raises questions and refuses to kowtow to Eurocratic moralizing on the issue. The invasive 'migrant crisis' is but one aspect of a series of interconnected developments that are irrevocably altering the cultures of Europe and include: demographic replacement through mass-immigration from the Third World, international non-governmental funding and support for the erasure of Europe's borders, long-term government designs for the complete integration of Europe with Africa and the Middle East, and blatant anti-White social engineering projects committed to transforming Europeans countries into mongrelized states.

It is clear that the European peoples are no longer permitted to positively identify as White and European countries are no longer authorized to remain White in their constitution.

Illegal migration to EU rises for routes both well-worn and less-traveled

Phillip Connor (18 March 2016)

The number of illegal entries into Europe by migrants hit a high point last year, and as their numbers increased, a picture emerged of the land and sea routes many migrants are taking to get there. In 2015, more than 1.8 million people crossed the European Union's borders illegally, according to Frontex, the agency responsible for coordinating the security of the EU's external land and sea borders. This was up substantially from 2014 (with about 280,000 detections of illegal border crossings) and 2013 (about 100,000 detections). In fact, 2015 saw the most illegal entries into the EU since Frontex began collecting data about a decade ago.

Frontex's data reflect apprehensions, or "detections," of migrants entering the EU illegally (Frontex uses the term "irregular migrants"), so they are not an exact count of migrants entering Europe. Some migrants enter Europe illegally without being detected. Others are counted more than once because they cross European borders twice (for example, both a sea and land border) or try to enter the EU several times. Still others may enter legally on a travel visa, but overstay their allotted time in Europe or later claim asylum to remain, at least temporarily, in Europe.

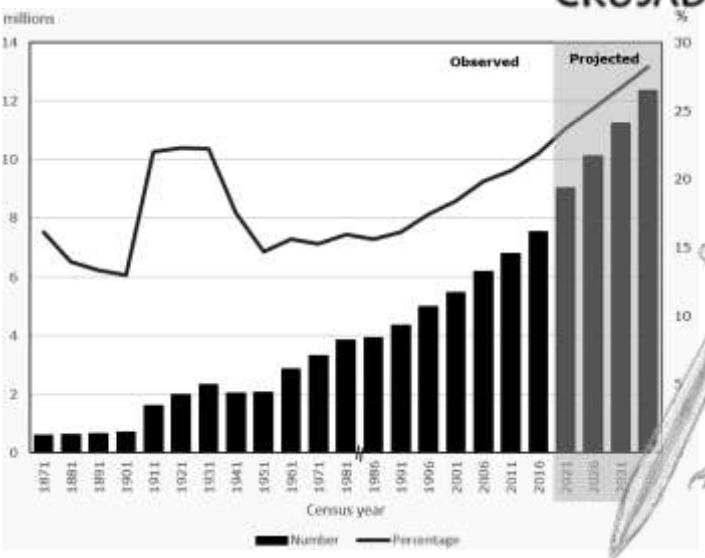
The Eastern Mediterranean sea route from Turkey to Greece (largely taken by Syrian, Afghan and Iraqi migrants) totaled nearly 900,000 detections in 2015, rising dramatically compared with previous years. But other sea routes have also grown popular with migrants, even though the relative scale is in the hundreds or thousands of migrants as opposed to the hundreds of thousands traversing the Eastern Mediterranean.

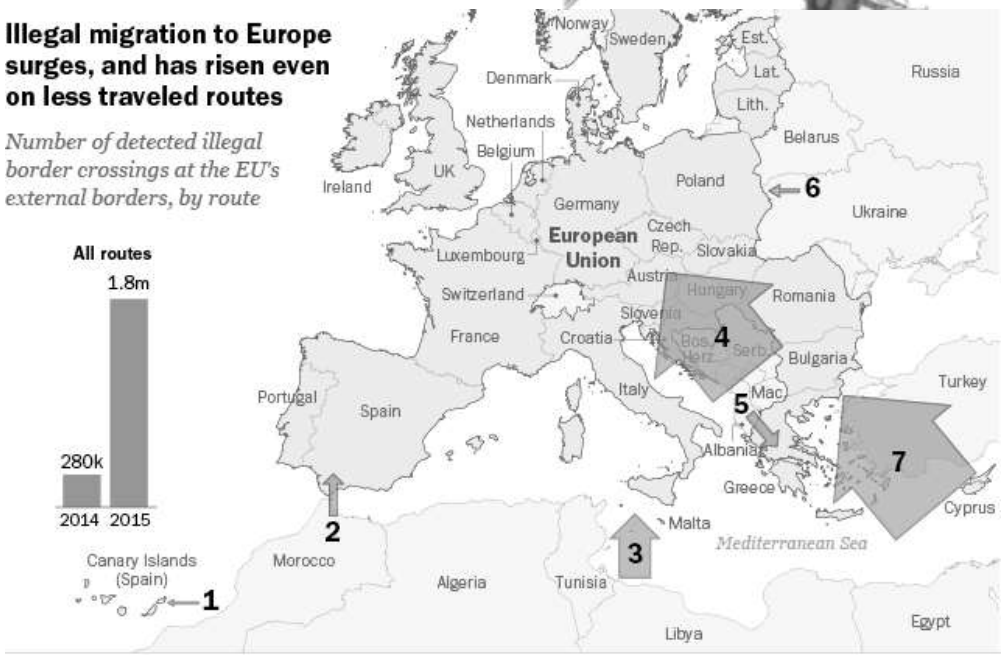
The Western African route (a sea route from northwestern Africa to the Spanish Canary Islands) tripled in illegal detections between 2014 and 2015. The once-popular Central Mediterranean route leading to Malta or the Italian island of Lampedusa saw a decrease in the annual number of detected illegal entries between 2014 and 2015, but still saw at least 150,000 illegal border crossings each year. The Western Mediterranean route from Morocco to Spain also saw a decrease in illegal border crossings between 2014 and 2015, but saw a substantial increase in the final quarter of 2015 even as colder weather made sea travel more treacherous.

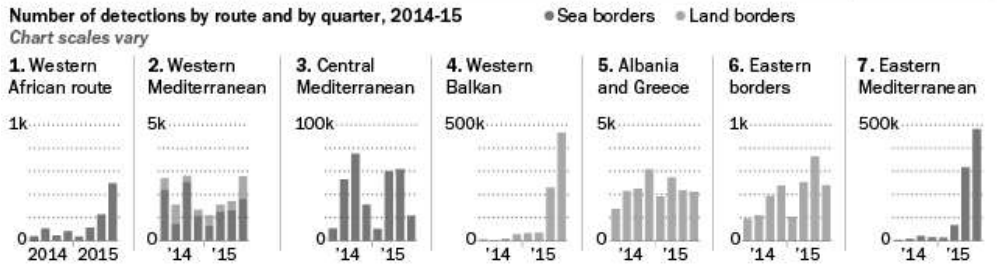
Detections of illegal land crossings are up as well. Along the Western Mediterranean route, a greater number of migrants from Africa entered the Spanish cities of Ceuta and Melilla on the northern Moroccan coast illegally in 2015 compared with 2014. The 3700-mile (6,000 km) Eastern land border also saw increased detections of illegal crossings between 2014 and 2015. In fact, some Syrians bicycled into Norway along the Arctic Circle.

Sometimes land movement involves crossing the EU's borders more than once. For example, the flow of Albanians from Albania to Greece and back again for seasonal work totaled roughly 9000 in both 2014 and 2015. And in 2015, hundreds of thousands of migrants crossed into the Europe Union twice, once via sea from Turkey to Greece and again into Hungary and Croatia after passing through non-EU member states such as Macedonia and Serbia.

The EU is currently negotiating with Turkey to stop the flow of migrants along its southeastern borders. If approved, some have predicted other routes may open or existing routes may become more popular as migrants in the Middle East, Africa and Asia continue to make attempts to enter Europe.







Note: Arrows are sized to illustrate the number of illegal migrant detections on each route in 2015, but are not to scale. Quarter 1 figures in 2014 for Eastern and Western Mediterranean routes are based on estimations from Frontex data. Source: Frontex.
